This has been a very busy term, introducing Terry and Ros to the schools, getting Terry up to speed on flying a Jabiru and juggling our workers between all community schools while Terry and Ros completed chaplaincy training, all this with the Cessna in Darwin waiting for a new propeller.

Now the Cessna and Terry and Ros are back here hopefully things will even out and slow down a bit.

I am now attempting to get out to all of the cattle stations and communities that have Kimberley School Of The Air (KSOTO).

This week I visited Kandiwal Community at Mitchel Plateau, what a blessing to talk with the kids at school and also the chair women Cathy Phillips and her mum who is the matriarch Pat Goonack.

Just building bridges to them.

The kids in the school were very friendly and easy to get beside, I had a great day with all of them, the home tutors Keryn and Alistair McIlroy are doing a fantastic job in very rustic conditions. All in all it's good to be breaking new ground.

I also shared morning tea with all the staff in the Derby KSOTA operations centre and once again had good positive fellowship with all teachers and administration staff.
